In a statement to a reporter yesterday Efternoon Commonwealth's Attorney Richardson cloured un for good and all in the basement of the City Hall of gamb ing paraphernalia, and which has attraced much attention from the Police Cour

Since the memorable raids by the police upon a number of places formerly wee for gambling houses, and the capture of thousands of dollars' worth of devices employed in games of chance, all of which was stored in the basement of the City Hall, the paraphernalia in question occupied the rotunda adjoining the Po-Mcn Court, and daily every one wno is called to the place is impressed by the prolonged and continued presence of the queer-looking tables.

and speculation among the publi, for it was announced several months age, immediately fallowing the conviction of the gamblers, that every piece of paraphernalia captured by the police had been destroyed in a conflagration in Capitol Street, which was ignited by Justice Drutchield. The general public was led to believe that the last vestige of the reign of the gamblers in Richmond had been put out of the way, and some went so far as to save some of the ashes as memento of the memorable occasion. and speculation among the public for it WHY NOT DESTROYED.

which however, was not the case, for over half of the paraphernalia, the half which was by far the most valuable, was piever taken from the basement, and consequently did not add any fury to the flames which devoured the other stuff. There was a good and legal reason for this.

Stomach and Dyspepsia Cure.

Munyon's Stomach and Dyspepsia Cure cures all forms of indigestion and stomach trouble, such as rising of food, distress after eating, shortness of breath and all affections of the heart caused by Indigestion, wind on the stomach, bad daste, offensive breath, loss of appetite, faintness or weakness of stomach, head-ache from indigestion, soreness of the stomach, coated tongue, heartburn, shooting pains of the stomach, constipation, dizziness and lack of energy. Price, 25 cents.

Munyon's Nerve Cure cures all the Ihis.

The parapherhalla which was not de-broyed and which still continues to use up the space and adorn the walls and floor of the hisement of the City Hall belonged to Priss Nuckols, who was never flon, dizzmess and ack of energy.

belonged to Priss Nuckols, who was never arrested.

Although a varrant was sworn out for the arrest of Nuckols, he was never apprehended, and at present is located in New York. It cannot be brought back to Richmond to stand trial on the warrant, as the charge is simply a misdemeanor, and he cannot be extradiled.

This being the case, no one has any guithority to destroy the paraphernalia, for it is known to belong to Nuckols.

and until he has been convicted and ownership absolutely proven, the State has no right to burn the property. Nuckols is simply looked uppen as a fugitive from justice, but this does not establish his guilt, for the law guarantees every one a fair and impartial trial by jury in the event a verdict of the Police Court Justice is not satisfactory.

There has been a persistent rumor affoat that Nuckols will remain in New York until all probability of prosecution has vanished by virtue of the statute of limitations, when he will come to Richmond, claim this parapheralia and ship it away to New York or sell it to some one in the Justices.

But this little scheme will never work, says Mr. David G. Richardson, Commonwealth's Attoriey.

WILL NEVER BE IMMUNE.

Mr. Richardson tays that no matter how long Nuckols stays away from Tichmond and avdds prosecution, he will never be guaranteed immunity by virtue of the statut of limitations. The minute he sets foot in Richmond he will be arrested, even thugh it is five years from date, and he till be arraigned on the warrant chargint him with conducting a gambling hour.

According to Mr. Hichardson the warrant was sworn out before Nuckols had the warrant chargint him with conducting a gambling hous.

According to Mr. Hichardson the warrant was sworn out before Nuckols had ceased gambling in Hichmond the necessary length of time to be relieved of prosecution for a vidation of the law, and the mere fact that he is at present a fugitive from justice does not relieve him. In other words, he can be held accountable the minute he sets foot in Virginia.

(Virginia.

Mr. Richardson says that while it would be improper and illegal to destroy the paraphernalia beloiging to Nuckols It will be held indefinitely, possibly years.

it will be held indefinitely, possibly years. Under no condition or through no mishap can Nuckols gain possession of the property until he has proven himself not will yell the charge.

The paraphornalia is estimated to have been worth at least $2,000 when it was new, and the value has not deteriorated a great deal since by having been used. Nuckols conducted a very orderly place, and all of his devices were kept in first class shape.

TWO WAGON LOADS.

The devices, enough to constitute two wagon loads, were captured one Sunday night in a raid, headed by ex-Police Captian Angle. It was taken from a room at Fourteenth and Franklin Streets, where Nuckols in years gone by used to operate his gambling "joint."

If the tables, wheels, boxes or any of the other stuff could talk many are the interesting stories they could relate about instances and occurrances that have happened in their presence.

It is remembered how once a man, a well-known local sport, went into the staff could sport, went into the stablishment with a twenty and a hundred dollar bill, and won an eyen $2,000 without losing a cent, playing roulette.

A MEMORIAL WINDOW

One to Be Presented to Centenary Church-Dr. Hannon to the Soldiers-Annual Meeting of Sunday-School Association.

Where can you find in the annals of medicine such a complete victory over the old school of nauseating and drastic remedies? A few years ago Prof. Munyon, a man of giant intellect, benevolent purposes and determined character, unfolded his new school of medicine through the medium of the press to the public. Confident in the honesty of his mission, he asked the citizens of the United States to test his remedies "absolutely free," and thereby made the public a jury to decide upon their merits. Thousands of sufferers who never knew what it was to be free from pain bless the name of Munyon, the modern benefactor of the human race. The unquestionable merit of Prof. Munyon's remedies has stood the test for the past five years, and now the name of Munyon is a household word in every family in this country, proving without doubt the efficacy of his cures and the honest victory he has won against overwhelming odds. and a big crowd of men will be present, field Fikes, of Baltimore, who on two diences of Richmond men at the theatre. or up and down should hear Fikes is a young man, a forceful speaker throughout. The music will be especially strong. The Virginia Glee Club and Miss Martha Snead win sing. The congregational singing will be led by the Grace-Street Baptist chorus choir. At this meeting important announcements will be made concerning March 16th, which will be the biggest Sunday for years.

for an even thousand dollars, as a result of a dispute over three red pennies, the Virginia Passenger, and Power Company being named as defendant. The action was brought in the name of Frederick H. Jackson, who alleges that he was ruthlessly thrown off a Clay Street car about one month ago.

PLAINTIFF'S CLAIMS.

The allegations accompanying the notice of suit were filed with Clerk P. P. Winston with the notice. They cover a half dozen pages of closely written matter, setting forth at length the claims of the plaintiff, who avers that he is entitled to $1,000.

From these papers it is learned that on or about the 5th of February the plaintiff, Frederick H. Jackson, boarded a car on the Clay Street line at the corner of Graham Street. He was en route to Ninth and Main, and claims that the conductor took up his fare, a trifling three cents, immediately after he seated himself in the vehicle.

A SECOND FARE.

After riding to Seventh and Broad Streets, it is alleged, the conductor once more approached the passenger, demanding his fare for a second time. Jackson insisted that he had paid once and refused to give up another cent for his transportation through the city, whereupon, it is alleged, the conductor violently laid hold of Jackson, snatching him from his seat. He was hustled bodily to the rear of the car and thrown off as the vehicle was crossing Broad Street. Jackson claims that he was hustled bodily to the rear of the car and thrown off as the vehicle was crossing Broad Street. Jackson claims that he was handled so carelessly, or more probably roughly, that he was precipitated to the ground, sustaining scrious injury. On this account he asks $1,000 damages against the defendant company. No answer has as yet been filed to the suit,

Old Catalpa From Virginia.

The New York Herald prints a picture of an old tree, which, it says, is a feature of Gray's Inn Gardens, right in the heart of London, and which was taken from Virginia under the auspices of Sir Walter Raleigh, and was to have been planted in its present position by Queen Elizabeth. Illness, however, prevented "good Queen Bess" from performing the ceremony herself, and she deputed Sir Francis Bacon, afterwards Lord Verulam, to take her place. As Raleigh named Virginia after his sovereign in 1885, the tree which he caused to be transplanted must be well over three centuries old. It is said by the Sketch and other London papers to be dying.

DANIELS LOOKS AFTER HIS PUPILS

Saw That Those Engaged to Go on With Mansfield Were Not Put Off.

Professor Daniels and the instructor

Professor Daniels and the instructor of supernumeraries for Richard Mansfield had a little spat yesterday afternoon on the Academy stage, and Mr. Daniels won out.

The young ladies and young men who were engaged for minor parts in the production of "Julius Caesar" are pupils of the Daniels School of Acting. Owing to a misunderstanding as to the hours for rehearsal yesterday, two of the young men were late, and the director for Mr. Mansfield told them he would dispense with their services.

Professor Daniels learned of the state of affairs and had an interview with the director. The latter seemed determined to carry his point, but Professor Daniels said that if he insisted on putting off the two young men, he would call off all the others, and "Julius Caesar" would have to go on without the usual number of Roman soldiers, ladies, citizons, etc.

Then the director relented, and Professor Daniels' pupils will have the honor of appearing on the stage with Richard Mansfield.

the very first if her entire strength were counted.

Grand Commander James Macgill, of the Grand Camp of Virginia, is making a trip over the entire State, making a camp-to-camp canvass for this action, among other things.

The Grand Commander was at Lee Cump's meeting last night and made an excellent address. He urged the camp to send a full representation to New Or-leans, He spoke of the healthful condi-tion of the camps throughout the State, and gave words of encouragement and commendation to the camp.

GIVEN CORDIAL RECEPTION.

General Macgill was given a most cordial reception. After the meeting all crowded around him, shook hands with him and expressed their pleasure at seeing him. A number were comrades during the war. When the Grand Commander had taken his seat Judge Christian offered the resolution referred to, which was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, Virginia is not represented in the organization of United Confederate Veterans by one-half of the Confederate camps in the State, and whereas it is most important that all of these camps shall become members of that great organization; therefore, be it
"Resolved, That this camp urges all the camps in this State to become members of the United Confederate Veterans, and by so doing place Virginia in its proper place upon the roll of that organization, since the place it now occupies on that

The oil portrait of General Nathan Bedford Forrest will be presented to the camp on next Friday night, Rev. Dr. W. H. Whitsitt will make the address and Rev. Dr. W. R. L. Smith will receive it on behalf of the camp. The lady and gentleman friends of the camp and the public generally are invited. The camp hopes for a large attendance of members and the public.

Grand Commander Macgill will be with Pickett Camp at a special meeting tonight. He will be in the city until Monday, probably, when he continues on his trip through the State. He will go over the entire Commonwealth before he again sees the Southwest mountains.

General Macgill is a gentleman of fine presence and soldlerly bearing.

Farmer Evans Says Weather Will Not Grow Cold

Farmer Evans displayed a map full of green lines in his office yesterday evening, and said the green lines indicated that there had been a precipitation over a large area of the United States. "This precipitation is likely to continue during the morning," said the Farmer, "although I do not think there will be

"aithough I do not think there will be any steady downpour hereabouts. The clouds are graduly slopping of the Atlantic coast, and will probably lose themselves in the ocean somewhere by Saturday night."

There are no indications that it is going to be colder.

Mr. Evans was quite sure about this. "Oh! no." he said, when asked if it would be advisable to lay in a new lot of coal for Sunday. "Unless I am mightily mistaken, and the charm refuses to wors, we will have a protty day Sunday. It aln't going to be any colder just new."

He made a brief speech in assuming the chair, and the conference then proceeded to other business. There were

The committee is empowered to negotiato with the Republican Steering Committee with a view to entering upon a general reorganization. There is no doubt, however, that the Democratic Steering Committee will insist upon having some of the committees alled, for the reason that the Democratic party has lost quite heavily in some of the committees which are in control of present business.

Later in the day the Steering Committee was named. It consists of Senators Goyman, Maryland; Cockrell, Missouri, Martin, of Virginia: Baccon, of Georgia; Dubeis, of Idaho; Money, of Mississippi; Balley, of Texas; Blackburn, of Kentucky, and Tilliman, of South Carolina, The new members on the committee are Messrs.
